Visiting Assistant Professor

Organization: The German Studies Department at Emory University

Date Posted: 3/27/2019

City: Atlanta

Location: Georgia

Country: United States

Primary Category: Temporary

Type of Position: Full-Time

Education Requirement: PhD

Experience Requirement: 1-2 years

Description & Details

The German Studies Department at Emory University has an opening for a one-year, full-time Visiting Assistant Professor position for the 2019-20 academic year. The teaching load for an instructor is five courses over two semesters. Minimum requirements for the position include Ph.D. in German in hand before start date on August 15, 2019. academic-level proficiency in both German and English. and documented successful college-level German language teaching experience in the United States. Salary and benefits commensurate with the position include a modest relocation allowance.

How to Apply / Contact

Candidates should submit a cover letter, CV, and the names of three references in one pdf document by May 1, 2019 to Prof. Peter Höyng, Chair, German Studies Department (phoeung@emory.edu). Emory University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disability/Veteran employer. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities and veterans are encouraged to apply.